Students Struggling with Basic Needs: How Can I Help?

Presenter:
Lori Martinez-Haussamen, MSW
Social Worker, Student Health Center

This workshop will address how staff can respectfully talk to students who are struggling during their time at NMSU because other needs are impacting their ability to focus on their studies. We will discuss how to discuss this sensitive topic with students, and how to help make an effective referral to Social Work Services, when needed. The Social Worker will also hand out and review some of the most commonly utilized on and off campus resources that students may need.
