Last year, NMSU general education faculty decided to move from course-level to program-level assessment of General Education (GE). A team of faculty developed and piloted a program-level assessment that integrated performance criteria from three of the five state common core learning objectives. In this workshop, we will present our assessment process and preliminary findings. We look forward to your input and feedback on this process as we move toward a full implementation this spring.

Members of the faculty team, the Committee for the Assessment of Student Learning in General Education (CASL-GE), are:

- Greg Armfield, Communication Studies
- Julie Fitzsimmons, Art
- Amal Mostafa, Mathematical Sciences
- David E. Smith, Chemistry & Biochemistry
- Shelly Stovall, Assessment
- Kassia Wosick-Correa, Sociology
